The requirement of UCAS for Doctor Degree is to get at least 11 credits before graduation. 4 credits should be from TWO Professional Degree Courses. Students need to take two professional degree courses. But students from institutes need to check out the requirements of your own institutes. Each institute has different requirement of credits. Please contact the Educational Administration of your own institutes first.

4. Courses Type

Courses are classified as degree courses and non-degree courses.

4.1 Public compulsory courses (7 credits in total)—Degree Courses

- (1) Elementary Chinese 1 (2 credits);
- (2) Elementary Chinese 2 (2 credits);
- (3) China Panorama (2 credits).
- (4) Academic Morality and Writing Norms (1 credits).

These four Public compulsory courses are Degree Courses for all international students. However, we have a rule about Course Waiver. Students who can meet one of the conditions can apply for course waiver and will get 6 credits directly (except Academic Morality and Writing Norms).

- A. Providing a certificate of HSK Level 3;
- B. Got a bachelor's degree or master's degree which are taught in Chinese.

Course waiver for Academic Morality and Writing Norms is Only for students who have got master degree at UCAS. Students who apply for the course waiver need to read the document “how to apply for course waiver” carefully, then apply for the course waiver in the course selection system.

4.2 Professional courses—Degree Courses and Non-degree Courses

Professional courses this year in Yuquanlu campus cover several academic areas. If one professional course has several parts, students who select this course need to complete all parts of this course, otherwise s/he may fail the course.

The professional courses can be classified as one of two types: Degree Courses and Non-degree Courses. This final decision of course classification for each student is left to the supervisor, as s/he is in the best position to assess the courses for the graduate programs. If students find the professional courses are totally not related to his/her major and will not help the research for PhD, then these courses can be seen as Non-degree Courses (Optional Courses). If the professional courses will help the research for PhD, then they should be Degree Courses (Compulsory Courses). This classification of one course will be shown on the course selection form and the final score sheet. All the students have two weeks to attend the professional classes and choose them.

4.3 Optional courses—Non-degree Courses

This semester we have 5 optional courses, which should be Non-degree courses.

1. Research Ethics (1 credit);
2. Scientific Writing (1 credit);
3. Public Speaking (1 credit);
4. Characters and Chinese Stories (1 credit);
5. Savoring Chinese Culture through Drama (1 credit)

5. Rules about courses results

Students should drop out of the university under one of the following circumstances:

- 1、 Master candidates who fail two degree courses within one semester and still fail one after relearning the courses, or fail three degree courses during the school years.
- 2、 PhD candidates who fail one degree course and still fail after relearning the course, or fail two courses during their school years.

The Public compulsory courses are all Degree courses.
